

Grand Slam Parade Entry Guidelines and Judging Criteria

The 15th Annual Grand Slam Parade is the kick-off to the 73rd Annual Little League World Series®. We appreciate your interest in being part of it! The parade will be on Wednesday August 14, 2019 and will step off at 5:30PM with the Public Officials Division. Please read the following guidelines before applying to participate in the 2019 Grand Slam Parade.

OUR MISSION is to serve as the Williamsport and Lycoming County welcome to the players, families and visitors for the Little League World Series®. We encourage you to design your parade entry based on the celebration of Little League Baseball®. Ideas can include the local league influence here in the community; regional influences from the different parts of the United States; the international cultures reflective of the various nations that participate in Little League®. The brighter and more festive you are, the more you will be noticed. The following guidelines have been developed and are meant to support our mission and at the same time minimize risk of injury to parade participants and onlookers. Last year we had over 3,500 participants in the Parade and an audience of over 40,000 people. Many of these are children who likely are focused on one but not paying attention to many of the other activities occurring around them. As group leader you must inform everyone in your entry about these guidelines.

The Grand Slam Parade is to celebrate the start of the annual Little League World Series® here in our community. Because of the great interest in the event, we are unable to accommodate all that wish to participate with an entry into the parade. To aide in determining the best representatives for this event, all entries go through an application and evaluation process associated with the below criteria. Preference is given to past participants but it is not a guarantee of acceptance into the parade. The parade planning committee has a predetermined set of slots for each division of the parade. Once the parade is full, no entries will be considered. It is the objective of the parade planning committee to keep the parade to a 2 1/2 -hour entertainment event.

Your float, vehicle or other parade unit must be decorated. The parade will be televised and promoted with our broadcast partner WBRE-TV and their affiliated stations throughout the US. Certain entrants will be eligible in certain categories to be judged for prizes and awards.

POLITICS. Banners, brochures, signs, songs, etc. that advocate political candidates, causes and issues are not permitted.

NOTHING CAN BE TOSSED OR THROWN FROM THE STREET INTO THE CROWD. Candy and trinkets that fall on the streets attract children onto the street, often in front of floats, horses, cyclists, etc. This is by far the most frequent violation of guidelines. It seems so harmless, but we've had some "near misses," and you will be responsible for any injuries that result. If you want to distribute candy, stickers, small trinkets, etc., - which we discourage but do not forbid - this must be done by walking beside the curb to distribute.

ANIMALS. Groups with horses must include appropriate clean-up crews, because there will be many Paraders walking behind you. We will provide an off-site location for unloading trailers. All dogs must be leashed; there is a lot of commotion all around, and animals can become alarmed.

DRIVER'S INSTRUCTIONS. You are responsible for communicating all information to those participating in your unit. Please remind your drivers to be vigilant about their start times and follow instructions given by the Parade staff without argument.

ENTRY AIDES. A minimum of six walkers must accompany (eight recommended) each float entry during the entire parade route as protection for your group and vehicle/float to prevent injury to children and adults lining the streets.

TELEVISION. Do not stop in front of the television cameras stationed along the parade route unless otherwise directed. All interviews for the parade by the television crew will be done in the parade staging area prior to parade step-off. All entertainment must be done in a forward moving activity. There is no review stand for this parade.

FLOAT JUDGING. Judging of parade floats will be conducted by judges located at various, undisclosed locations along the parade route. There will be no review stand.
